UPTOWN DISTRICT HAS $13,000 BLAZE WITH FIRE PLUGS FROZEN

Fire which threatened to wipe a solid square of property between 10th and 11th on the south side of Centre street broke out at 12.55 o'clock this afternoon.

An alarm of fire was sent in from box 3-3 by Prudential Insurance Agent Charles Hosler at Tenth and Pine streets. The German American Co. hustled to the scene. A few seconds later a general alarm brought out the entire fire department.

The fire broke out in a closet in the home of John Yuttschick who, with his family, resides in the rear of the meat market conducted by Crouchenis and Sussavage.

The C. & S. meat market was deluged with water, as was the Yuttschick home. Valuable meats and groceries were spoiled and the loss is heavy.

WILD SCURRYING AFTER THAT OLD SACCHARINE STUFF

There has been wild scurrying after sugar the past several days, the good housewives fearing that there was to be a famine of the dulcet stuff, due to the employees of the large refineries being on strike.

The mad rush and excitement were undue. The "cornering" caused by caused by customers buying fifty pounds when they in reality needed but five, not only was responsible for the awful "cataclysm," but tended to raise the retail price.

Had prudence been used at the first, as it was after the coal operators' injunction, there would have been no coal famine. The same is true of the present sugar situation.

POTTSVILLE, Feb. 13.—The rule of the Supreme Court in granting a mandamus upon Bechtel and Koch, of the local judges, to determine the question of the local judges and a decision of the rule will decide once and for all time whether or not the "necessity" has to be determined year, or whenever any one in the strict remonstrates against a place upon the grounds that longer necessary for the accommodation of the public in that vicinity. Supreme Court will receive argument from the local judges Saturday next and will then the question. If Judge Koch's position is sustained then hearings will be held in every case from the ward. If Judge Bechtel's position is sustained, the remonstrances will because they were not sustained a majority of the judges.

The longer the conditions remain they are the more complicated situation becomes. The demurrer Judge Brumm precipitated a contentious and far-reaching question which is likely to have a direct impact upon a number of things just and political for some time to come. Attorneys who are well acquainted with the late Judge Brumm's upon the liquor question have expressed the belief that he would probably have been disposed to grant the licenses in the first place because he always stood in favor of the retailer and against the brewer. His death, however, resulted in a division of the remaining judges injected the liquor question into matter of the appointment of a successor.

Not only the court but the applicants themselves are now divided a number of the dealers was against the move made to have the matter decided by the Supreme Court and favored another argument in the local courts based upon the same conditions and which was started by Attorney M. J. Ryan when he asked the court on Monday to dismiss the remonstrances under the rules of court because they were not sustained by a majority of the judges.

The matter is, therefore, now before the local court in behalf of about forty of the hotel keepers of the ward, while the other twelve have forced matters by the application of the Supreme Court for a mandamus which was granted yesterday, in the form of a rule. The matter is, therefore, in a tangled condition and it quite possible that further complications may ensue. There is one thing certain and that is that no sideswiping the decision of the Supreme Court is now possible and the hotel keepers and temperance people anxiously awaiting a decision, which may come on Monday of next week or shortly thereafter.

There will be no licenses reviewed until that decision is handed down and if an order is made for hearing they will no doubt be ordered for some time during the next week. If they are ordered the rules of the local court will no doubt have to be changed as the hearings next year would take a month as objections could be filed in every congested district of the county and part of the county would necessarily remain dry until the cases would be disposed of.

The applications from the second and third wards of Mahanoy City will, of course, be held up pending action upon the first ward applications.

erby and family and Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Lutz, together with Mrs. John Collins and others, almost to the end of the square took no chances and moved out.
On the west side of the C. and S. market, Garfield Richards' property caught fire. Here raged an inferno, which challenged the best efforts of the firemen. Mr. Richards was a heavy loser, his home being backed by fire axe and deluged with water. The household goods which remained in the home remained in about eighteen inches of water after the fire. The homes of John Anstock and Reuben Ylengst at 1014 and 1016 narrowly escaped feeding the fire fiend. These families lost considerably through smoke and by the removal of their goods to the street.

Corpses in Path of Fire
While the tenet of excitement prevailed during the fire, hundreds making their way to the scene by auto, wagons and by foot there was one home which for a time was threatened.

That was the home of Peter Masden, where lay in death's embrace Mrs. Margaret Lutz. It was a source of great satisfaction and gratification when the crowd became buoyed up by the certainty that the flames would not reach the Masden home.

Losses in Today's Fire
Estimated losses in today's fire are:
Crouchenis and Loss Ins.
Susavage (prop) $4,800 $1,200
Crouchenis and
Susavage, stock 2,000
Joseph Yutschick, furniture 600
Jos. Barkis, furniture 600

Garfield Richards, household goods 800
Matthew Stineolis 500 partial
Other losses combined 500

Estimated totals $13,300 $2,200
The fire was declared officially out at 1:50, just fifty-five minutes after the alarm was sent in.

Notes on the Fire
Harsh was the fate which today overshadowed Garfield Richards. Only last week he finished payments on his home. He was exulting in the thought of "my home" when the fire fiend blasted his joy.

Chas. Susavage in trying to beat out the fire and save his meats sustained a scorched face.

George Rounds, of East Pine and 10th streets, sustained a lacerated foot when caught under falling glass. George is a dauntless volunteer fireman. He was treated by Dr. H. D. Hermany.

NEESQUEHONING MAN ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Steve Stiekler, aged 27, of Neesquehoning, attempted to commit suicide at 5 o'clock last evening on account of ill health. He was removed to the hospital in a dying condition.

MINNEAPOLIS HOTEL BURNS: 13 ARE DEAD

Many Leap From Windows and Are Badly Injured.

Minneapolis, Feb. 12.—At least thirteen persons lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Kenwood hotel, according to police estimates.

In addition to the known missing, eleven other persons, who were reported to have been away from their rooms at the time of the fire, have not yet reported to the police. One person is known to be dead.

A score of persons were injured, some seriously, by leaping from the top floors of the structure when the one fire-escape became heated. One woman, Mrs. Lucile Squire, jumped to her death from the third floor.

The fire, which apparently started in the basement, spread rapidly and soon the building was enveloped in flames. The stairways were impassable and people rushed to the windows. While figures hung from many windows, others shot through the air into nets and snowdrifts. One woman, her nightclothing in flames, rushed from a group of hysterical guests on the top floor and dropped out of the window into a snow-drift. She may live.

GIRL SAVES BURNING MAN

Flames Ignite Lineman's Clothing Who Sets Fire to Exchange.
Birdsboro, Pa., Feb. 12.—A disastrous fire occurred here, and before it was under control, with the aid of fire apparatus sent from Reading, over $36,000 worth of damage had been done.

The John W. Slipp Hardware company, including an oil storage house and a portion of the lumber yard, a double dwelling, owned by Nelson Gelger, and the frame house of Mrs. Amelia Shrey, were destroyed, together with their contents.

The fire started in the Conestoga Telephone company's exchange, on the second floor of the hardware store Howard Spotts, of Morgantown, a line man, was starting a fire in a stove, when the flames shot out and ignited his clothing. He ran through the room setting it afire. The flames spread with great rapidity. Spotts was badly burned. Miss Maude Stanley, telephone operator, assisted in rescuing him from the burning building.

Appeals Heard.

POTTSVILLE, Feb. 13.—Less than half a dozen appeals from the tax assessment for 1917 were heard by the commissioners to-day when the annual appeals took place. The most important and the only appeal requiring adjustment in addition to correction was that of the Auburn Campmeeting Association, which asked for exemption upon a tract of land used for camp meeting purposes and upon which taxes had previously been paid.

As the plot is now used for church purposes only it comes within the exemption provision of the law.
